

The Tiny Gigs series continues.....

Please note: all gigs are ticketed and advance online ticket booking is essential. Here are just some of our gigs with tickets from £12.50 per performance; our yummy tapas are served throughout and up to the end of the 1st set. Doors open an hour and a half before gig performances

NEIL SMITH TRIO

Thurs July 22nd, 7.30pm & Fri July 23rd, 7.30pm

The dazzling guitarist Neil Smith (This Is The Kit, Th Brackish, etc) in company with the pure vocal brilliance of Kat Allen and the masterful Jake McMurchie (Get The Blessing, Michelson Morley, etc) on tenor saxophone. Three of Bristol's best musicians, in the most intimate of settings: unmissable.

BENJAMIN HUW

Thurs July 29th, 7.30pm

Rincon debut for this talented solo performer with a flowing fusion of Flamenco, Latin American, and classical guitar. Benjamin lived in Peru for a time, and this has been a significant influence on his music-making, as have been his many years as a travelling musician.

Should be the perfect sound for this intimate space.

HARRIET RILEY & ALEX GARDEN

Fri July 30th, 7.30pm & Sat July 31st, 7.30pm

We're absolutely delighted to welcome this unusual and exceptional vibraphone and violin duo to the Tapas Tardis for the first time. Harriet Riley is multi-instrumentalist with Spindle Ensemble and Tezeta, and many others. Alex Garden is a fiddle player with a unique sound born out of traditional Scottish and English styles.

CARMINA TRIO

Thurs Aug 5th & Fri Aug 6th, 7.30pm

The Carmina Trio features Pippa Marland (vocals, saxes and Irish whistle), Rob King (acoustic guitar and bodhran) and Paul Bradley (vocals, electric and acoustic guitar). Bristol-based, the band have recorded six albums and toured internationally

JOW

Sunday Aug 8th, 4-6pm

Sparkling new cello and trumpet duo making a rapid return to the Tapas Tardis following its very well received debut performance a few weeks back. Cellist James Gow is an outstanding young multi-instrumentalist who has worked for Kneehigh and Wise Children Theatre, and is part of quartet Eleven Magpies. Pete Judge is the grizzled veteran trumpeter from Get The Blessing and Three Cane Whale etc, aka Pedro of El Rincon's Pedro Promotions.

VICTORIA KLEWIN & DENNY ILETT

Fri Aug 13th & Sat Aug 14th, 7.30pm

Bristol jazz stalwart and guitar virtuoso Denny Ilett is joined by dynamic vocalist Victoria Klewin to bring you classic jazz and swing. Expect an innovative tour of the American Songbook, with some forays into the back-catalogue of the late Blossom Dearie, to whom this brilliant duo have dedicated a successful side project.

ROOKERIES

Thursday Aug 19th, 7.30pm

Very welcome return for this hugely enjoyable & ambient folk & instrumental duo featuring guitarists Finnian Evans and Kieran Glas. Expect delicate harmonies, the subtle layering of rhythms, and music that evokes a dreamscape somewhere between Central Europe and the roots of Americana.
